Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

FIRST READING

A reading from the second Book of Maccabees

The King of the world will raise us up to live again for ever.

There were seven brothers who were arrested with their mother. The king tried to force them to taste pig's flesh, which the Law forbids, by torturing them with whips and scourges. One of them, acting as spokesman for the others, said, 'What are you trying to find out from us? We are prepared to die rather than break the laws of our ancestors.'

With his last breath he exclaimed, 'Inhuman fiend, you may discharge us from this present life, but the King of the world will raise us up, since it is for his laws that we die, to live again for ever'.

After him, they amused themselves with the third, who on being asked for his tongue promptly thrust it out and boldly held out his hands, with these honourable words, 'it was heaven that gave me these limbs; for the sake of his laws I disdain them; from him I hope to receive them again'. The king and his attendants were astounded at the young man's courage and his utter indifference to suffering.

When this one was dead they subjected the fourth to the same savage torture. When he neared his end he cried, 'Ours is the better choice, to meet death at men's hands, yet relying on God's promise that we shall be raised up by him; whereas for you there can be no resurrection, no new life'.

This is the word of the Lord.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

R: I shall be filled, when I awake, with the sight of your glory, O Lord.

1. Lord, hear a cause that is just,
pay heed to my cry.

Turn your ear to my prayer:
no deceit is on my lips. R.

2. I kept my feet firmly in your paths;
there was no faltering in my steps.
I am here and I call, you will hear me, O God.
Turn your ear to me; hear my words. R.

3. Guard me as the apple of your eye.
Hide me in the shadow of your wings.
As for me, in my justice I shall see your face and be filled, when I awake, with the sight of your glory. R.

SECOND READING

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Thessalonians.

May the Lord strengthen you in everything good that you do or say.

May our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father who has given us his love and, through his grace, such inexhaustible comfort and such sure hope, comfort you and strengthen you in everything good that you do or say.

Finally, brothers, pray for us; pray that the Lord's message may spread quickly, and be received with honour as it was among you; and pray that we may be preserved from the interference of bigoted and evil people, for faith is not given to everyone. But the Lord is faithful, and he will give you strength and guard you from the evil one, and we, in the Lord, have every confidence that you are doing and will go on doing all that we tell you. May the Lord turn your hearts towards the love of God and the fortitude of Christ.

This is the word of the Lord.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!

Stay awake, praying at all times
for the strength to stand with confidence before the Son of Man.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

A reading of the Holy Gospel according to Luke.

He is God, not of the dead, but of the living.

Some Sadducees — those who say that there is no resurrection — approached Jesus and they put a question to him.

Jesus replied, 'The children of this world take wives and husbands, but those who are judged worthy of a place in the other world and in the resurrection from the dead do not marry because they can no longer die, for they are the same as the angels, and being children of the resurrection they are sons of God. And Moses himself implies that the dead rise again, in the passage about the bush where he calls the Lord the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob. Now he is God, not of the dead, but of the living; for to him all men are in fact alive.'

This is the Gospel of the Lord.

In Remembrance

FIRST READING

A reading from the prophet Isaiah.

On this mountain, the Lord of hosts will prepare for all peoples, a banquet of rich food. On this mountain he will remove the mourning veil covering all peoples, and the shroud enwrapping all nations, he will destroy Death forever. The Lord will wipe away the tears from every cheek; he will take away his people's shame everywhere on earth, for the Lord has said so. That day, it will be said: See, this is our God in whom we hoped for salvation; the Lord is the one in whom we hoped. We exult and we rejoice that he has saved us.

This is the word of the Lord.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

R: The Lord is my Shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

The Lord is my Shepherd, there is nothing I shall want.
Fresh and green are the pastures where he gives me repose.

Near restful waters he leads me,
to revive my drooping spirit. R.

He guides me along the right path, he is true to his name.

If I should ever walk in the valley of darkness
no evil shall I fear.

You are there with a crook and your staff,
with these you give me comfort. R.

You have prepared a banquet for me in the sight of my foes.

My head you have anointed with oil,
my cup is overflowing. R.

Surely goodness and kindness shall follow me all the days of my life.

In the Lord's own house shall I dwell for ever and ever. R.

SECOND READING

A reading from the first letter of St. John.

We shall see God as he really is.

Think of the love that the Father has lavished on us, by letting us be called God's children; and that is what we are. Because the world refused to acknowledge him, therefore it does not acknowledge us. My dear people, we are already the children of God, but what we are to be in the future has not yet been revealed; all we know is, that when it is revealed; we shall be like him because we shall see him as he really is.

This is the word of the Lord.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!

Happy are those who die in the Lord!
Now they can rest forever after their work,
since their good deeds go with them.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

A reading of the Holy Gospel according to Luke.

I am the Way, the Truth and the Life.

Jesus said to his disciples: "Do not let your hearts be troubled, trust in God still, and trust in me. There are many rooms in my father's house; if there were not, I should have told you. I am going now to prepare a place for you, and after I have gone and prepared you a place, I shall return to take you with me; so that where I am you may be too. You know the way to the place where I am going. Thomas said: Lord we do not know where you are going so how can we know the way?" Jesus said: 'I am the Way, the Truth and the Life. No one can come to the Father except through me.'

This is the Gospel of the Lord.

Everyone loves to be remembered but if we want to be remembered We have a duty also to remember, memory is a powerful thing. Wrongly used it can bring death rather than life. It keeps the past alive. Those we remember never die. They continue to walk and talk with us, there is nothing stronger or more helpful than a good remembrance. Dear departed loved one, we want you to know that we haven't forgotten you. We remember you and your memory most definitely brings life to us today. May it also assure us of life for you, that eternal life Christ came on earth to give us.

PRAYERS OF THE FAITHFUL

Celebrant's Introduction: Let us now open our hearts in prayer to the Lord who opens the Scriptures to us; may we sincerely seek God's strength for the living out of our faith.

Intercessions:

1. May God bless the Church's ministry to the most vulnerable; may she offer them the Gospel, both in the kindness of her deeds and in the wisdom of her preaching.
Lord, hear us.....
2. On this Prisoners' Sunday, let us pray for the criminal justice system. May it protect the vulnerable in our society, offer justice to those who suffer crime, and respect the human dignity of those who are imprisoned.
Lord, hear us.....
3. We pray for families of prisoners, that they may remain united in the face of the challenges they experience, and that they may find the support and the pastoral care they need.
Lord, hear us.....
4. We pray for those who are in mourning. May they find real hope in the conviction that God is God of the living, and that to him all people are alive.
Lord, hear us.....

Celebrant: Father, in your mercy, help us to love you with generous hearts and to serve you with willing hands. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.
